1. Select the course that you would like to import an Academic Technology course template into from your dashboard.

2. Click on the "Import from Commons" option to the right of your page once you select your course.

3. Academic Technology course templates that are shared to the Commons will appear.
- Academic Technology has made several templates available, which include a single weekly module template, a 15-week template for hybrid/face-to-face courses, and a 15-week Online course template.

4. Select the template that you would like to import into your course.

5. After you click on a template, Canvas will allow you to preview the content of the template. This will allow you to make sure that you have selected the proper template and look at the materials before you choose to import.
