Job Description – Full-Time Practitioner in Residence Dance

Contemporary Forms of the African Diaspora – Technique and Creative Practice

Columbia College Chicago actively promotes diversity, equity, and inclusion as vitally important to its present and future success. These principles are essential to the educational experiences of our students, staff, and faculty.

The Dance Department of Columbia College Chicago seeks applicants for a Practitioner in Residence whose research expertise is situated in contemporary forms of the African Diaspora beginning August 2022. This is a one-year appointment.

Our curriculum places embodied training in Afro-Diaspora and European-derived forms in conversation with theory, creative process, pedagogy, technology, and dance science applications. Our new colleague will be an artist/educator whose artistic research centers contemporary physical practice grounded in forms of the African Diaspora. Courses taught may include: movement practice according to expertise, Improvisation, Choreography, Pedagogy, or courses related to research area. We are seeking a colleague who can contribute significantly to departmental discourse and practices specifically in regard to artistic inquiry, collaborative methods, and equity and inclusivity in our curriculum, policies and pedagogies.

The Practitioner in Residence will teach 4 courses each semester and may receive a course release for additional duties such as creating choreography with students or facilitating content-specific conversations in the department related to equity, inclusivity, and culturally responsive pedagogy.

In addition to expertise in their field, successful candidates must exhibit excellent teaching and scholarly credentials and be passionate about undergraduate and graduate education.

The School of Fine and Performing Arts (SFPA) houses academic programs in visual arts, performing arts, and business, entrepreneurship, and marketing. Home to more than 110 full-time faculty and over 3,000 students, the SFPA community is deeply committed to rigorous exploration of a wide range of artistic practices and economies, within an inclusive curriculum characterized by a strong focus on a diversity of contemporary styles and current industry trends. Across SFPA, we challenge the next generation of artists, scholars, managers, performers, designers, makers, and entrepreneurs to master the skills and interrogate the foundations of their creative disciplines; imagine new futures; and contribute to the vibrant arts communities of Chicago and beyond.

Duties & Responsibilities

- Teach at the undergraduate level in areas assigned by the Department Chair.
- Engage with the broader scholarly and professional communities.
- Supervise and advise and mentor students.
- Actively participate in bi-weekly faculty meetings.

- Contribute to the development, planning and implementation of a high-quality, inclusive dance curriculum consistent with the Columbia College Chicago commitment to equity and social justice.
- Commit to continuing professional development.
- Provide service to the college, profession and community.
- Actively follow and promote Columbia College Chicago policies.

We seek individuals with a demonstrated ability to work with students from a wide range of social and cultural backgrounds, and whose creative, scholarly and/or professional work aligns with our commitment to dismantling systems of privilege and oppression. All faculty members are expected to advance the College's DEI mission. For more information on the office of Academic Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion please visit: colum.edu/diversity.
